The decision of the Carter Circuit Court has been affirmed by the Court of Appeals in the case of William Neal, who was convicted and sentenced to be who was convicted and sentenced to be hanged for participating in the Ashland nurders three years ago. Neal bad once before been convicted and sentenc-ed to death, but the Court of Appeals granted a reversal on the ground that the court below failed to properly instruct the jury with reference to testimony coroborative of that of an accomplice. His second trial resulted as the first, and the decision of the court below now stands affirmed, and it now devolves upon Gov-ernor Knott to fix the day of execution.
